

Student wondering whether to answer the post/ask the question or not

Student thinks of idea to create an alias to ask/answer the question.

Student creating an alias and asking/answering the question

Student reading response to question/answer posed by them.

Student express his thankfulness that his misconception about the question/answer was cleared